Mr. T. A. Ramachandra Ayyar.—What connection has this Enamakkal bund with the Karuvannur Scheme ?

President.—I may say that we have two vent-ways as against one before the flood of 1099. A larger volume of water is being drained through them into the sea through the Enamakkal Lake. We have now two vent-ways in the Enamakkal bund. These gave a larger relief to the water. These two openings relieved a larger volume of water brought down from the hills. That is the connection. So, instead of one vent-way we have two vent-ways, and as such there is a wider gap for the water to flow out.

Mr. T. A. Ramachandra Ayyar.—How can the water on the southern side of the Karuvannur river get into the Enamakkal Lake ?

President.—Water can go through the Pazhuvam Thodu and the Chirakkal Thodu.

Mr. T. A. Ramachandra Ayyar.—There is a chira on this side. Unless there are breaches,...

President.—Of course the bunds will be there; but water will be flowing down. It will go through the opening to the Muriyad Lake and then into the sea. Another portion will go through the Chirakkal Thodu and the Pazhuvam Thodu. These are openings and through these water will go, and then it will get into the Kole lands.

Mr. T. A. Ramachandra Ayyar.—But how can the water on the southern side of the Karuvannur river get into the sea ?

Mr. I. Raman Menon.—Water will get through the Kanakkan Thodu to the Muriyad lake.

Mr. T. A. Ramachandra Ayyar.—What is the estimate amount for the Karuvannur Scheme ?

President.—We have not received any estimate yet. No estimate has been submitted for sanction.

Mr. C. A. Kunjunni Raja.—It is Rs. 1,40,000. It is stated in the budget.

President.—That is a cost report only. Detailed estimates have not been received.
